

Spring 2008 Final Exam Schedule

MAY 22 – 29, 2008

TIME:	THURSDAY May 22	FRIDAY May 23	MONDAY May 26	TUESDAY May 27	WEDNESDAY May 28	THURSDAY May 29
8:30-11:30 AM	OT501 Pentateuch (RM 5) OT702 Prophetic Books (RM 4)	AP601 Modern Mind (RM 4)		CH602 Medieval Church & Reformation (RM 5)	NT501 New Testament Interpretation (RM 5) CH527 Latin II (RM 4)	NT403 Greek IV (RM 5) PT707 Senior Seminar M.Div Comp. Exam (RM 1)
1:00-4:00 PM	ST702 Christian Life (RM 4)	ST703 Doc. of the Church (RM 5) OT402 Hebrew III (RM 4)		NT602 Pauline Epistles (RM 5)	ST602 Doc. Of Christ (RM 5)	OT601 Historical Books (RM 5)
7:00- 9:00 PM	PT600 Min. of Discipleship (RM 5)			Greek I (RM 4) Thesis Defense (Chapel)	OT520 English Bible Sur. (RM 5) HT615 Reform Confessions (RM 4)

Unless excused by the professor, absence from a final examination will result in a failing grade on the examination.

- All examinations must be written in the scheduled classrooms. Withdrawal to areas other than the restroom or lounge is not permitted. An explanation of Westminster's Honor System is printed on this schedule. You are expected to abide by it.
- All morning exams start at 8:30 and end at 11:30 unless otherwise specified by the professor. All afternoon exams will start at 1:00 and end at 4:00 unless otherwise specified by the professor.
- In the case of extenuating circumstances (long-term personal illness or personal or family crisis of a traumatic nature), students may request excuse from taking a final examination at its scheduled time and the rescheduling of the exam. Such requests must be presented to the instructor in writing or electronically, and granted by the instructor, prior to the scheduled time of the examination. Unless the instructor has granted the student's request for permission to defer the exam or an Incomplete has been granted by the dean of students or the Committee on Petitions, absence at the scheduled examination period will result in a failing grade on the exam.
- The honor system and academic pledge is a cherished privilege required during all examinations. The responsibility to maintain this honor system and pledge without blemish lies upon students and professors. The following pledge must be written out and signed on each examination:

"I pledge my honor that I have neither given nor received verbal or written assistance during this examination beyond that permitted by the instructor in charge."